Janus Remote Communications Announces Sprint Certification of the Terminus CDMA400AP v2.0

Aurora, IL — Janus Remote Communications, an industry leader in the design and manufacture of precision M2M products and solutions, is pleased to announce Sprint network certification of CDMA400AP v2.0. The Open Platform CDMA400AP Intelligent Cellular Terminal is a complete wireless communication device with integrated ARM9™ processor and expanded memory. The 400AP includes Serial, USB and Ethernet connectivity with voltage input range from 7 to 26 VDC. The Atmel ARM9™ architecture is capable of 400 MIPS and operates with Linux™ OS. Series 400AP products include CAN Interfaces and embedded GPS for AVL and asset monitoring. And, have SD card slots for significantly expanding memory.

This Intelligent Terminus series allows for complex applications to be located and run on the 400AP, reducing the need for back-end processing. Companies with complex remote wireless application requirements will find the 400AP the perfect solution.
